

ARMY OF LUCUST COMING.

Entomologist Predicts the plague for Months of May and June. Lexington, Ky., April 11.—The advance guard of an immense swarm of seventeen-year-locusts is predicted for May and June by State Entomologist H. Garman, of this city, who is the president of the International Association of Economic Entomologists, and is authority on bugs of all kinds.

The territory over which Professor Garman says the winged host will sweep embraces West Virginia, Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and the forests of New York.

This means the devastation of fruit trees and young forest trees in those states. The main body will arrive next year.

Seventeen years ago when the last locust swept over the country, the males deposited their eggs in the tender twigs of the fruit and other succulent trees by piercing the outer bark and laying their eggs in the deep crevices produced near the pith. In a short time the eggs hatched and the hatching caterpillars fell to the earth. They burrowed into the ground and lived among the roots of the saplings which they sucked from them for six years.

KILLS HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Linnet County, Ga. Man Is Shot While Trying to Get into House.

Winder, Ga., April 11.—Arthur H. Hines, a young white farmer of Gwinnett county, was shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, Henry Morris, while attempting to break into Hines' house about 10 o'clock Saturday night. Hines, who, it is said, was under the influence of liquor, had come to the Morris home for the purpose of re-opening an old quarrel with his sister, Mrs. Morris, and, being denied admittance, procured an ax from his wood yard, and began to batter down the door.

As the doorway fell and Hines was passing across the threshold, brandishing his dangerous weapon, Morris emptied the contents of a double-barreled shotgun into his body. Death was instantaneous.

Once a Millionaire; Dies a Pauper.

Chicago, April 11.—Edward W. Mitchell, at one time a leading figure on the Chicago board of trade organizer of a corner in wheat in 1868, and once worth millions, is dead at the county hospital, at 70 years of age, a pauper. His fall came in 1870, only two years after he had cornered the wheat market and made a fortune. Since then he has lived in the hope that one day he will regain his former wealth. But his failure had shaken him that he never regained his position, but grew poorer and poorer, until in recent years he depended entirely upon the charity of friends. Members of the board of trade have made up a subscription to help defray the funeral expenses.

Thirty-five congregations and societies sent delegates. A committee of 15 headed by Jacob H. Schieff, was to prepare for the celebration.
